LINEAGE:

GMO Cookies x Chillz

Indica-dominant

TERPENES:

Limonene, β -Caryophyllene, α -Pinene

FLAVOR & AROMA:

Sharp, with notes of garlic and a light sweetness

DESCRIPTION:

A cousin to our Big Chillz line, Capulator's Chem Chillz swaps OG Kush for GMO and brings its signature acrid garlic-onion funk. The Cookies side of things comes through, but the structure is bigger and frostier overall. Almost silvery with hints of purple, this is a beautiful plant to look at and produces quite dense flowers. Selected mainly for its GMO qualities, the aroma is appropriately sharp, funky, and gassy with a slightly sweet earthy quality.

This is one of the highest-testing plants out of the Chillz line – as a result, it may potentially hit harder than others. Overall, this may be more suited to evening (or a day with a clear schedule) at higher doses, as the mental effects can be quite strong.
