LINEAGE:

Durban Poison x UK Cheese
Sativa-dominant

TERPENES:

Terpinolene, Limonene, Myrcene

FLAVOR & AROMA:

Complex and citrusy with notes of grassy cheese

DESCRIPTION:

Made up of two very famous genetic lines with rich history (UK Cheese is from ~1988, Durban Poison dates back to the late 1970's), this hybrid leans more towards the Durban side, as seen by its high terpinolene content.

Bright and reeking of tropical citrus, it also has notes of the unique grassy goat cheese-like aroma for which the UK Cheese became famous. This one may provide a strong mental uplift and a boost of energy and creativity, making it a great daytime choice.
